

Draw a short story about how the Police helped someone who called for them

It could be based on any sort of incident you choose, you may want to be one of the officers or the person needing help; think about the different roles and which officer or unit may be the right ones to help; THINK... an incident may need more than one unit or officer.

1

2

3

4

5

6