Sexting: Peer Awareness Raising Task

- Young people can work alone or in groups to further research issues associated to 'sexting'
- From the research findings they should choose a linked topic from the list above or one of their own choosing
- They should design a way to raise awareness to other young people and inform them of key messages and where/how to access information and support.
- Design ideas should be in a format that will appeal to other young people to ensure it is engaging; be as adventurous and innovative as possible using mediums such as:

Presentations, video, music, song, poetry, social media, art, graphic design, drama

- Deadline should be set by the facilitator for students to present their work to their peers.

Task Sheet

The guidance outlines the task to support young people with research and planning to achieve a focussed outcome; the sheet can be sent electronically or printed out.

Taking the task a little further...

Design & Present: as suggested in the guidance above, the task can be used as a design and learning exercise to provide a concept only outcome.

Or

Design & Social Action Project: the task could further challenge pupils to make their design a tangible product to implement in your school/establishment.

Creating a social action project to be developed and embedded over a longer period of time.

Rock Challenge

Has your school considered participating in Rock Challenge?

This is a fantastic and rewarding opportunity to 'perform a message' to young people and adults through music, dance and drama; giving participants a unique opportunity to develop skills and grow in confidence.
